California ISO's goal is to have Wide-Area Situational Awareness through a common visualization layer that integrates the results of multiple applications